Carol Kinsey Goman

Carol Kinsey Goman, Ph.D. is a faculty member for the Institute for Management Studies, an international keynote speaker for corporations, conventions, universities, and government agencies, and an executive coach with two specialties: 1) assisting leaders as they craft and deliver key messages, and 2) helping senior managers prepare for C-Suite roles by increasing their leadership presence, which she defines as "the ability to influence and impact others by projecting confidence, credibility, inclusion, and caring." Current speaking topics include: Collaborative Leadership, Leadership Presence, The Power of Presence for Women Who Lead, Body Language for Leaders, and Body Language for Women Who Lead. Carol's clients include over 300 organizations in 26 countries -- corporate giants such as Consolidated Edison, 3M, and PepsiCo; major non-profit organizations such as the American Institute of Banking, the Healthcare Forum, and the American Society of Training and Development; high-tech firms such as Hewlett-Packard and Texas Instruments; agencies such as the Office of the Comptroller of the Currency, Lawrence Livermore Laboratory, and the Library of Congress; and international organizations such as Petroleos de Venezuela, Dairy Farm in Hong Kong, Petrofac in the UAE, SCA Hygiene in Germany, BNP Paribas in England, and European Women in Technology in the Netherlands. Carol is a leadership blogger for Forbes, the author of twelve business books, including the best-selling, The Silent Language of Leaders: How Body Language Can Help – or Hurt – How You Lead, and the creator of LinkedInLearning's most popular video training program in 2016, 2017, and 2018, Body Language for Leaders. A new video course for LinkedInLearning (on Collaborative Leadership) is scheduled for the spring of 2019. Carol has served as adjunct faculty at John F. Kennedy University in the International MBA program, at the University of California in the Executive Education Department, and for the Chamber of Commerce of the United States at their Institutes for Organization Management. She is a frequent presenter for the International Association of Business Communicators. For more information, visit <https://CarolKinseyGoman.com>.
