

Academic Member and Ambassador
Communication Institute of Greece

Dr Fedaa Mohamed

Assistant Professor of Journalism

Faculty of Mass Communication

Ahram Canadian University, Egypt

Fedaa Mohamed is an Assistant Professor of Journalism at Faculty of Mass Communication, Ahram Canadian University, Egypt. She holds PhD of Journalism, Faculty of Mass Communication, Cairo University with First Class Honors Degree & Recommendation to Exchange it with other Universities at 2018. In 2016, she received her MA of Journalism, Faculty of Mass Communication, Cairo University with Excellent Grade.

Mohamed has presented research papers in several international academic conferences. Also, she has published in several international journals. Her research papers interests include international journalism, discourse analysis, coverage trends, news writing and editing and specialized journalism.

She has been the Coordinator of the Young Mediterranean Voices Debate program and previously named Young Arab Voices Program in Ahram Canadian University since 2016 till now.

She has organized 7 annual conferences at the Faculty of Mass Communication, Ahram Canadian University and is one of the members of the media committee for all those conferences.

Academic Member and Ambassador
Communication Institute of Greece

