

HEPO2019

17 - 20 APRIL
ATHENS, GREECE

AN EVENT ORGANIZED BY THE COMMUNICATION INSTITUTE OF GREECE

HEPO2019 is a new interdisciplinary platform for the presentation of empirical and theoretical work that is reflective of a highly dynamic political arena both domestically and internationally.

The conference is seeking to receive contributions by scholars who recognise that political science needs to vindicate its relevance by tackling today's challenges while predicting the themes ahead.

We aim to establish a hub for academics that engage with peers over the latest advances and research results in any sub-field of Political Science and International Relations both in the shape of empirical and theoretical work.

Topics of interest for submission include, but are not limited to, themes on Political Science and International Relations.

"New Challenges, New Answers" is meant to inspire and bring together academic leaders, researchers, and scholars who like to think outside the box and transcend their disciplinary domain.

It is also open to established researchers, as well to a new generation of researchers and students willing to share their work, receive feedback and exchange ideas with faculty from all around the world.
