

Publishing Agreement and License to Publish

To ensure the widest dissemination and the protection against copyright infringement of your article, the Journal of Education, Innovation and Communication (JEICOM) requires you as Author to authorize in writing to JEICOM the rights to publish the Article you are contributing.

Publishing Agreement is required at the time of submission and requires the corresponding author's affirmation that:

- (a) the article have not been previously published (except possibly as an abstract or as part of a dissertation),
- (b) the manuscript is not under consideration for publication in another organisation/ journal, and will not be submitted elsewhere,
- (c) all authors consent to the publication of the manuscript in the, i) JEICOM, ii) publishers or journals with which the Communication Institute of Greece collaborates with,
- (d) the person that signs warrants that s/he has the full authority to enter into this,

The Journal of Education, Innovation and Communication (JEICOM) leaves the papers copyright with the authors. JEICOM only requires each author's agreement that we publish his/her research paper. For multi-author Work, the signing author states that he/she has written authorization from all co-authors to sign this agreement, and that he/she will notify them of his/her action.
