

Jacqueline A. Stefkovich
Professor Emeritus
Department of Education Policy Studies
USA

Jacqueline A. Stefkovich

Jacqueline A. Stefkovich is Professor Emeritus in The Department of Education Policy Studies at The Pennsylvania State University (USA) and is currently a Fulbright Fellow working with faculty at the University of Zagreb, Croatia. She holds a doctoral degree in Administration, Planning, and Social Policy from Harvard University's Graduate School of Education and a J.D. from the University of Pennsylvania Law School.

Professor Stefkovich has worked in educational settings for over forty years as a teacher, guidance counselor, state-level administrator, educational consultant, and university professor, department head and associate dean for research. She has authored or co-authored five books on ethics, law, and policy as related to public schools. Her most widely-read book, adopted by some 80 colleges and universities in the U.S. and abroad, and now in its 4th edition, is Ethical Leadership and Decision Making in Education: Applying Theoretical Perspectives to Complex Dilemmas (with Joan Shapiro). She has also published over sixty book chapters and peer-reviewed journal articles.

Dr. Stefkovich has conducted research and/or presented papers at international conferences in Australia, Canada, Colombia, South Africa, and New Zealand as well as in the U.S. She has taught graduate courses in Tokyo Japan and was a Distinguished Visiting Professor at Australian Catholic University in the summer of 2016.

