

Dr Rafael Maria Friebe
Doctor of Philosophy (Linguistics)
Doctor of Education
Project Manager
Siemens

Rafael Maria Friebe

Rafael Maria Friebe, PhD, is a Project Manager and Linguist at Siemens. Dr. Friebe works as an appointed translator and interpreter for Regional/State Courts since 2006 and as a reviewer of international journals. His studies comprise Economics at the University of Oxford and the University of Basel as well as Globalisation and Development at the University of Cambridge, alongside IoT Technology at King's College London. He holds an M.A. (Translation) earned at the University of the West of England, Bristol, UK; a State Certificate in Translation earned at the IFA University of Erlangen-Nuremberg; the Certificate in Technical Communication of the Grundig Academy for Business and Technology, and the TÜV-certified Technical Editor of the German TÜV Rheinland; a Ph.D. from Managua Universidad Central de Nicaragua with a Major in Linguistics and a Doctor of Education from Universidad - Centro de Estudios Superiores Azteca, Estado de México in the greater Mexico City area.

