

Hikmah, M.A.

Lecturer in Study Program of Communication Studies,
Mulawarman University
Samarinda, East Kalimantan,
Indonesia

Hikmah, is a lecturer at Study Program of Communication Studies, Mulawarman University, in East Kalimantan, Indonesia. Her research interests are especially in media studies and intercultural communication since she took a Master's program in Communication Studies and Media, in Gadjah Mada University, Yogyakarta, Indonesia. Currently, she is pursuing a Doctorate course at Graduate School of International Development, Nagoya University, Japan, and focusing her research in environmental communication as her new interest. Her latest article entitled "Conflict, Disaster and Trauma Healing: Descriptive Study of Conflict and Coal Mining Disaster in Samarinda City, East Kalimantan Province" was published in 2016 in a book of "Community, Corporation, and Communication Development in Sustainable Country" by Buku Litera Yogyakarta. Outside of her work, she loves to travel and learn about local people's culture in Indonesia.

