

Academic Member and Ambassador
Communication Institute of Greece

Michael A. Altamirano
Professor
King Graduate School
& Monroe College's Board of Trustees
USA
& Vice President of Strategic Management,
Communication Institute of Greece

Michael A. Altamirano

Dr. Michael A. Altamirano serves as a proud member of Monroe College's Board of Trustees and a fulltime graduate professor for the King Graduate School. Michael is also the Vice President of Strategic Management, of the Communication Institute of Greece. He has over 20 years of experience leading and transforming organizations. Dr. Altamirano has a distinguished record of accomplishment as an entrepreneur as well as leadership success with organizations such as Campbell's Soup, Pepperidge Farm, Coca-Cola, and Procter & Gamble.

His research interests are in leadership development, diversity, multiculturalism, and ethics. Mr. Altamirano holds a PhD from Piedmont International University in Winston-Salem, North Carolina, where his research focus was in organizational leadership and urban education, with a discipline in Christian theological studies. He also holds an MS degree from Manhattanville College in Leadership and Strategic Management, and a BS degree from Concordia College in Business. Additionally, he is an ardent supporter of community involvement and actively volunteers his time with Meals on Wheels in New Rochelle, New York.

Academic Member and Ambassador
Communication Institute of Greece

