

Academic Member and Ambassador
Communication Institute of Greece

Maria Concetta Carruba,

PhD, Researcher in Didactics and Special Education (SSD-MPED-03)

Pegaso Telematic University

Italy

Her main research interests focus on Technology for Inclusion and Well-being, including for people with disabilities and learning disabilities; Educational Technology; Universal Design for Learning; Technology for Learning and Online Learning; Inclusion and Well-being; Teaching methodologies and strategies; TLC and Faculty Development; Learning Processes; Game and Videogame for Learning; AI, VR, ER, AR in Education and Special Education; Coding and STEAM at School for all. Member of scientific-pedagogical societies, she collaborates with national and international research teams. She has participated in Erasmus Plus Projects and numerous conferences as a speaker. She published books and articles on the topics of her interest.

Academic Member and Ambassador
Communication Institute of Greece

